

EASTERN ROSELLA

Platycercus eximius eximius

Southeast Australia

Rosellas are usually seen searching for seeds on the ground or high up in gum trees. Their call is a melodious whistling note.

When alarmed, a harsh rasping screech is given as a warning call.