

GREY CROWNED CRANE

Balearica regulorum

Eastern Africa

The Grey Crowned Crane is named for its crown of stiff golden feathers atop its head. They produce unusual honks that differ greatly from the loud, bugling calls of other crane species like the Sandhill Crane.