

PALE-HEADED ROSELLA

Platycercus adscitus

Eastern Australia

Rosellas, like most parrots, nest in hollow trees preferably near water. Rosellas have benefited from farming and ranching which bring water to the drier parts of their habitat.