

RING-NECKED DUCK

Aythya collaris

North America

The Ring-necked Duck is more easily recognized by the bold white ring around its bill than the light purplish one around its neck. When alarmed, this duck can swim long distances underwater to escape danger.