

ROCK HYRAX

Procavia capensis

Africa

Similarities in tooth and foot structure indicate that Rock Hyrax are a close relative to elephants. These sociable mammals communicate with different calls; including their defensive and territorial calls, which sound like screaming.